share your passion for Modernist architecture. To learn more, join us for a sponsorship information party at the Angus Barn, 9401 Glenwood Avenue, Raleigh. Free! RSVP with name(s), company, and phone number to Rebekah Laney, rebekah@ncmodernist.org.

Saturday, October 29, from 10am-1pm, the “DWEELL” House, designed by Resolution4Architecture, was one of North Carolina’s star attractions when completed just over ten years ago. On a sweltering summer day, 2000 people visited this Modernist house on top of a small mountain in Pittsboro. Now it's your turn! On a beautiful cool fall day, a shuttle will take you straight up the mountain. Details and tickets.

One of the most significant commissions a North Carolina architect has ever received opened up to the public in Washington DC this week, attended by President and Mrs. Obama. Congratulations to Durham's Phil Freelon and his team! Hat tip to Dorothy Butler.

Colossus, NCMH's Mid-Century Architecture Magazine Archive, is well on its way to becoming the largest open digital architecture magazine collection in the world. Yet it pales in comparison to The Hyman Archive, a London-based collection of around 100,000 magazines dating from 1910 to the present. The Hyman Archive made the Guinness Book of Records as the largest collection of magazines in the world. Although curated to focus on "popular culture in print," Hyman's amazing archive includes a broad array of subjects, from architecture and interior design to photography, graphics, and animation. Founder James Hyman intends to digitize his collection to "unlock the value and make it accessible to researchers and members of the public." NCMH and Hyman are collaborating on architecture titles. For more info visit the Hyman Archive.

Co-sponsored with AIA Triangle.

Saturday, October 8: $25 tickets on sale now. Houses include: The Ten at South Person (condos), Raleigh, designed by in situ studio, Erin Sterling Lewis and Matt Griffith; The Love Addition, Durham, designed by Ellen Cassilly; Hermitage Court, Durham, designed by Szostak Design; The Morrison Residence, Chapel Hill, designed by Louis Cherry; Hillcrest House, Raleigh, winner of the 2016 George Matsumoto Prize, designed by Will Alphin.

Starting Thursday, October 13, 730pm. For the eighth year, NCMH brings the Triangle visually amazing films on Modernist architecture. This year's theme for the Moho Realty Architecture movie series is Palm Springs Modernism.

The first movie, Desert Utopia, traces the origins of midcentury architecture in Palm Springs with landmark structures by Richard Neutra, Albert Frey, E. Stewart Williams, Donald Wexler, William Cody and William Krisel and never-before-seen archival footage of the architects and construction. All movies are at the Jim Hunt library at NC State. Free for Mod Squad members and NCSU students, discounts available for OLLI and Friends of the NCSU Libraries. Details.

Special thanks to architect Dail Dixon for sponsoring Desert Utopia.
